

Pets have a friend

Stand Up for Animals would like to thank attorney Richard Malafy for representing the group in a recent legal case involving a neglected dog. This is not the first time Mr. Malafy has volunteered his services helping us obtain custody of abused animals, and I am happy to say in each case, the animal's life was vastly improved.

Not many attorneys would accept clients on a pro bono basis, let alone those with fur and four legs. We are truly grateful to him for standing up for animals.
